IN HARD BATTLE
ON THE GRIDIRON

Quakers Score Touchdown and Goal in the First Half, but Redskins Tear Up the Line in the Second.

The game was a hard-fought one, with the Quakers showing improvement in form and the Redskins showing a decided improvement in their play. The game was a hard-fought one, with the Quakers showing improvement in form and the Redskins showing a decided improvement in their play.

YALE HAS WALKOVER WITH WASH AND JEFF.

The Yale football team, under the leadership of Coach Walter Camp, secured a walkover victory over Washington and Jefferson in their recent game. The game was played in a hard-fought manner, with the Quakers showing improvement in form and the Redskins showing a decided improvement in their play.

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 24.—Old Eli simply slaughtered Washington and Jefferson today, score 38 to 0. Daily was the star of the Blues.

Yale scored in the first five minutes after the play started. Brigham intercepted an outside kick and made an eighty-yard run, being thrown ten yards from the goal. Nianton took the ball across in the line plunger and Coy kicked the goal. Kilpatrick was taken off the field seriously injured and Haines took his place.

Whenon made another touchdown in a line plunger and Coy kicked the goal. Score, 11 to 0. Coy scored after a series of line plunges five minutes later and then kicked the goal. Score, 17 to 0. Just before the half closed Wheaton dropped a goal from the 30-yard line. Score, 21 to 0.

Practically an entire new lineup went in in the second half. Daley went in a right halfback and was the star of the game. He scored and kicked the goal. The game ended with the score Yale 38, Wash & Jeff 0.

CORNELL IN TUSSELE WITH VERMONT TEAM.

The Cornell football team, under the leadership of Coach Walter Camp, secured a walkover victory over Washington and Jefferson in their recent game. The game was played in a hard-fought manner, with the Quakers showing improvement in form and the Redskins showing a decided improvement in their play.

PERCY FIELD, ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 24.—With Left Guard Ball, one of the strongest men on the line, out of the game with water on the knee the Cornell football team faced Vermont this afternoon somewhat handicapped, but confident of rolling up a good score.

Vermont was on the field early, and although the Green Mountain boys did not look as though they had any game, they moved speed and glimmer in practice. The Cornell team looked fit and ran.

SULLIVAN DEFEATS
EICHLER AT POLO A. A.

Paddy Sullivan, the Brooklyn light-sayer, of the New Polo A. A., last night he put it all over Bud Eichler in the main bout of six rounds. Sullivan was too fast and clever for his opponent, and his vicious blows took all the strength out of him.

In the sixth and last round Sullivan waded into Eichler, and after landing many stiff punches, finally dropped him to the floor, the bell saving him from being counted out. In the other bouts Owen Flynn was bested by Kid Rose, Jess Gaffney and Joe Phillips boxed a draw, Jim McFadden, and Jimmy Moran fought a fast bout, with honors even.

MOTOR BOAT RACES
COME UNDER THE CONTROL OF A. A. A.

The Automobile Club of America will assume charge of motor boat racing in America, according to a cablegram received by S. M. Butler, secretary of the organization. The international association of racing motor boats, comprising in its membership the principal motor boat clubs, yacht and automobile associations of Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy, and Sweden, has elected the A. A. A. as its representative in America.

This authority will give the A. A. A. the controlling power in all international motor boat races held in this country, and will result in a big boom to the sport.

The A. A. A. recently organized a motor boat division, and placed at its head Dave H. Morris, who represented the club at the recent international congress in Dieppe, France. The club will assume charge of the racing in the United States and place it on a sound basis by the framing of uniform rules under which motor boat races will be held in all parts of the country. This division will be in charge of a committee of motor boat owners, and will be strictly a racing adjunct to the club.

More than four hundred well known yachtsmen are enrolled in the Automobile Club of America, and their support and interest will be thought, as an important factor in future motor boat competitions. Among the yachtsmen are Cornelius Vanderbilt, Frederick G. Bourne, Wilson Marsball, J. Adolph Mollenhauer, Elbridge T. Gerry, William K. Vanderbilt Jr., and Arthur C. Hootnick, also C. Oliver Iselin, Harry Payne Whitney, Lewis Nelson, Edward L. McKim, Charles G. Gates, R. A. C. Smith, Jr., W. Seward Webb, Morton P. Plant, C. R. G. Phillips and J. H. Fugler.

"Gentleman Jack" to Train Here With Valet

Philadelphian Brings Retinue for His Battle With Sam Langford.

"Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien, the most picturesque figure in the prize ring, will appear in a New York ring next week in a strenuous effort to win back all his old laurels. O'Brien, who once defeated Peacock Alley with his retinue in fact, was such a hit at the fashionable hotel, that the manager politely requested him to seek other quarters, and will arrive in New York on Monday attended by valet and retinue.

Not since the days of the Horton law, when the champions battled for honors in New York, have the fight fans been worked up to such a pitch of expectancy. When O'Brien begins his battle with Sam Langford, of Boston, the National Athletic Club will probably be jammed to the doors.

O'Brien has fought in every country the world over. He has a long string

Robbed, Says Stewart,
After Go With Wille

McCoy's Easy Victim Has a Hot Battle With Chicago Has-Been.

Jimmy McForest arrived home today with Jim Stewart, both declaring they had been robbed in Philadelphia, where Stewart met John Wille last night. "Stewart was robbed by a man," said McForest, "but they sent it out as a victory for Wille."

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 24.—Just why Kid McCoy should have been one of the crowd to the ring was made clear at the State Athletic Club last night when Jim Stewart, who has been heralded as a probable successor of Jim Jeffries and the illustrious line of heavyweights who have gone before, stood up against John Wille, of Chicago, in the wind-up. Wille himself has long passed his meridian.

As boxers go he belongs to the athletic class, and in the bellows department particularly he is sadly in need of repair. But, with all that, he did not have much trouble in demonstrating that no matter how far he has gone back, he is a trifle better than Stewart. The latter is a fine specimen of physical humanity, although a trifle overweight and amiable.

Scientifically he knows little or nothing. His right hand might as well have been in a sack for all the good it did him. He is a trifle better than Stewart, but he is a trifle better than Stewart. The latter is a fine specimen of physical humanity, although a trifle overweight and amiable.

NEWARK MEETING
BRINGS OUT MANY ATHLETIC STARS

What promises to be the biggest set of games held in New Jersey this year is the opening meet of the Newark Athletic Association at Olympic Park to-morrow.

All the events are well filled, and if the track is in good condition it would not be surprising if records are lowered, for the cream of the Eastern athletic world have entered. The boys that gained fame in the Olympic and those that have forged to the front this summer, together with the winner of the metropolitan, national and Canadian championships, will strive for new laurels.

Mel Sheppard, metropolitan, national and Canadian champion for the past three years, Olympic champion at 80 and 150 meters, will be on scratch in the 80-yard run. Harry Glasing, who won the national junior title in the 80, is expected to push "Shep" as he has been travelling at a fast pace lately.

Lawson Robertson, who defeated Jimmy Recker in the Olympic trials; Billy Keating, holder of the "shot" and national springing championships; Jack Eller, the low hurdle champion, and Walter Burch, junior champion, are low hurdles who will go in the 100-yard dash. This is surely a fine field and good time will be made.

In the 400-yard run the race will be between Harry Hillman, metropolitan, national and Canadian champion; W. C. Robbins, who finished second to Carpenter in the Olympic event that caused so much dispute, and Harry Sedley, of the New York A. C.

John Daly and Tom Collins are down for a duel in the two-mile event. In the hop, step and jump a good field have entered, including Platt Adams, Lawson Robertson, S. C. Northridge, Jack Eller and Harry Glasing. The list includes Harry Glasing, who won the national junior title in the 80, is expected to push "Shep" as he has been travelling at a fast pace lately.

OF WEST POINT TEAM.

CAPTAIN PHILO
OF WEST POINT TEAM
A RUGGED PLAYER.

Philo, the army captain this year, is one of the team who at least has football instinct. This was shown in almost every game this year by the way he follows the ball and recovers fumbles. The army captain is a veteran of the game, and before entering West Point played with Bowdoin College at center, although not a star. He came out in his place year, but had the misfortune to break his leg very early in the season and the following year played center for the scrub eleven, George Abraham, who played varsity center.

Last year he made the team, and was unanimously elected captain for this season. Philo was appointed to the academy from the State of Maine, and besides being the leader of the football team is also captain of Company C, of the Cadet Battalion. He is twenty-five years of age and weighs 175 pounds and stands five feet eleven inches in height.

Besides football, Philo takes an active interest in the field sports, representing his class in the shot-putting events. While taking an interest in athletics, the army captain still retains a high ranking in his classes, standing 4 out of 10, and is one of the most popular men in the first class.
